INDIANA EDITOR'S FISHING

He Wanted to Get Out of Reach Before Speaking.

TALKS OF HIS SUCCESS IN THIS CITY

OCCASIONALLY ONE MEETS A LIAR. Editor Johnson of Bedford, Ind., who recently was the guest of Colonel John Altmyer of this city, has been printing something of his fishing experiences in the Ohio.

He is a great admirer of the magnificent scenery which surrounds the old town on every hand, and much of his time while here was spent on the banks and bosom of the river.

The attached clipping was taken from a recent issue of his paper, The Daily Democrat, and shows the fact of an extended acquaintance in both town and country, it will prove of interest.

The article was illustrated, and while the original cuts cannot be procured, a copy of one is presented.

Editor Johnson says—

When I left Bedford the other day it was so hot that butter melted in the box, flies were as thick as dust, and it was so bad that I didn't want to go away from town; give me credit for that. But when my wife began to talk of the green trees, cool country breezes, pure milk, fresh butter, purring brooks and skipping lambs that abound in old Kentucky, I agreed that the trip would be good for our health, and so it has.

I have made the acquaintance of an old fisherman by the name of Peter Pepper, who listens to us through pity.

PETER LISTEN THROUGH PITY.

When I try to tell him how we caught fish when a boy, Peter and I are fast friends and it would do you good to see the catches we take from him, not at all at each raising. That is to be more exact, Peter handles the plebeian catches while I stand on shore and keep the children from making too much noise.

Had a nice shower the other evening and my friend suggested that the rain insured a good day's fishing on the morning, so I arranged to go down in the afternoon and catch a week's supply. I tried to lure a horse and wagon to come to the river about sundown and load up the fish, but none were to be had.

The Ohio river is a beautiful sheet of water, with every appearance of good fishing and I could hardly control my impatience to begin the work of death against the finny tribe.

Finally I began. There seemed to be a great many fish around, but they had probably just come from a festival and didn't feel hungry.

Fished for four hours and then stopped, so as to leave a few for the folks around here.

Came up to the house and sat down on the veranda after supper to enjoy the balmy twilight and a good cigar. Went to bed early and dreamed of the three big fish I allowed to get away.

An Open Letter.

We desire to say that our business since January 1st has passed the mark anticipated. We wish to be frank; therefore we are not attempting to talk to business people and what it is in the form of a polished essay. The advantage of having merchandise different from your competitors is apparent, provided that the retailer is known to be reliable. Does not a good deal of advertising appear to you as though the advertisers were indulging too freely in fine words? Most of them seem to say something that means nothing. Names are invented for goods that have no bearing whatever to the materials; turned and twisted until they are no longer relevant, all of which is done to one product, because the product hasn't enough of it. Fine features make fine goods. We are strong believers in advertising because it is a good thing, but advertising doesn't pay unless constructed on a proper basis, and that is to plainly tell people what you have to sell, and sell it as low as is consistent with legitimate business methods.

Our spring importation of Dress Goods, White Goods, Carpets, Mattings and Housekeeping Goods generally is complete. Come and see the prices, which will be found to be as cheap as the cheapest, quality considered. Respectfully,

GEORGE COX & SON.

The Investment Company has taken its place as a permanent institution, and the prejudices that obstructed its early growth are disappearing in the light of experience in its workings. For many months the people of Mason county have been sending over $1,000 a month to be invested in companies at Lexington and other places. Now that we have a Company at home whose plan is the latest and most approved, and whose Managers are personally known to you as men of standing and integrity, why not put your investment with them? Patronize your home institution, and your city and country will develop.

There is still a lingering prejudice in the minds of many people against the investment business. This arises largely from lack of information as to the real principles upon which the business is founded.

Our older citizens remember when the first Building Association was started in Mayaville. There was a great deal of opposition to it, but it lived down the prejudice and was the forerunner of the three prosperous institutions of that kind in Mayaville. The Building Association depends for its success entirely upon co-operation.

Life insurance was a rarity in Mayaville in the preceding generation, but now it is difficult to find a man entirely uninsured, who is healthy enough to stand a medical examination.

Our plan is open to the sick and feeble, to whom life insurance is barred, as well as to the healthy and strong. Don't let prejudice stand in your way because the business is unfamiliar to you, but investigate for yourself, and you like others will be convinced. Call at our office or write to the
